

To Whom it may concern:

...As I sit in my cell here I am reading this book called The Grieving Indian. AS of right now I currently am only about half way through the Book, & every so often I stop & think of the ones I loved more than anything in this world & their times of passing...

...I don't know how to cope with this & I'm scared that when I max out in the next 3-6 months that I'm going to go back home & use again & put my family through the same stuff. I'm a Christian, at least that's how I was brought up. I currently don't go to church at all but was also brought up believing that I don't have to go to church to believe in God.

Anyway I'm writing you guys because I feel like you can help me connect to someone while I'm locked up that can speak with & maybe help me. Also because I'm at a spot in my life where I feel I need God or some other type of spiritual guidance...Yes I do believe Jesus died on the cross for my sins & I have accepted Him as my Lord & Saviour. I'm just a simple junkie who doesn't know what else to do for help on my grieving & or addiction...

Please & thank you so much for taking one time to read this long letter & letting me get some things off my chest & for the help that you can & or willing to provide.

Thanks again
Yours truly,
MM
